

MEXICAN CONGRESS WILL NOT BE RECOGNIZED

United States Government Will Not Consider Its Acts Valid.

Continually informed, there has been no direct effort to seek the support of the powers to the American policy. There is no secret here of the desire of the United States for the acquiescence of the foreign powers. Refusal to recognize the acts of the new congress, which can grant concessions or ratify loan agreements, would be calculated, American officials say, to further weaken the resources of the Huerta government.

Official Information About Huerta.

The trip to the Arizona border of William Hayward Hale, on previous occasions a personal representative of president Wilson in Mexico, and the wide discussion of the question of raising the embargo, has excited considerable interest.

Secretary Bryan, when questioned about Mr. Hale's status, said merely: "Mr. Hale is at Tucson, Arizona."

He was unwilling to be pressed further. Bryan denied incidentally that any negotiations were being conducted with the "Constitutionalists" by the United States government.

Problem Over the Embargo.

The question of exporting arms to Mexico has raised the point in official circles of whether the president, by executive authority, could let down the bars or whether action by congress would be necessary. The joint resolution of March 14, 1912, prohibiting exportation of arms and munitions of war to countries in Central and South America where domestic violence exists, with such exceptions as he deems expedient. These exceptions hitherto have been only to a legally constituted government.

Many persons have suggested to the president that a repeal of the joint resolution would be necessary if the United States finally decided to allow arms to go to the disputants. This has given rise to the belief that any such departure from the policy would be preceded by a communication from president Wilson to congress.

Secretary Daniels said that the president had told him there were not likely to be developments in the Mexican situation that would interfere with the secretary's proposed trip to the middle west next week.

EMBASSY SAYS FINE FOR SAENZ TRIVIAL

Protests to Huerta Government Against Meager Punishment of Man Implacated in Dixon Shooting.

Press dispatches from the City of Mexico state that the American embassy there has protested to the Mexican government against the trivial fine imposed on Margarito Saenz, officer in Gen. Salazar's command, charged with the responsibility for the shooting in Juarez last July of Charles B. Dixon, United States immigration inspector at El Paso.

Saenz, the officer in command of the detachment, was arrested by the Juarez military authorities, after a demand for it had been made by the American state department. He was tried last month in Juarez by civil authorities and fined, according to the Mexican dispatch, 20 pesos, or 20 days in jail. The fine was paid and Saenz was released. It is reported that he is now with Salazar's command in the city of Chihuahua.

Fearing that his captors intended to execute him, Dixon attempted to escape and was shot. He recovered in an El Paso hospital in about two weeks. AMERICANS RETURN TO SONORA HOMES

Little Groups Who Left Yaqui River Country on Wilson's Warnings.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., Nov. 11.—A little group of Americans departed today to return to their homes in the Yaqui river district in northern Sonora. They were among the 100 Americans who arrived two months ago on the steamer Buffalo at San Diego, Cal.

Already nearly one-half of the refugees have returned to their homes in the district which normally is populated thickly with Americans. They say they will find upon their return they do not know.

The turning refugees can travel by rail only as far south as Matamoros, less than half the journey. Their homes are about 500 miles below the border.

TERRAZAS SMELTER HAS RESUMED WORK

Operations have been resumed at the Terrazas smelter, owned by the Rio Tinto company, a Corcoran-McKinnley property. The smelter had been closed for six weeks for repairs, according to reports from here.

D. H. O'Neal, J. R. Jones, L. Zubiate and C. Stroobek, employees of the Rio Tinto company, arrived here Monday from Terrazas station, 24 miles north of Chihuahua. They say that the booming of cannon during the bombardment of the capital by the rebels Friday night could be heard at Terrazas. The men left the station Saturday and made their way to the border on a handcar over the Mexican Central railway.

REBELS PLAN ATTACK ON TAMAULIPAS CAPITAL

"Constitutionalists" Abandon Campaign Against Monterrey and Will Move Against Tampico.

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 11.—The attack on Monterrey, Mexico, where desperate fighting has been in progress for several weeks, has been abandoned for the present, it was learned from official "Constitutionalist" sources in Matamoros. It is now planned to concentrate the "Constitutionalist" forces against the capital of the state of Tamaulipas. Only a force sufficient to prevent the Monterrey garrison from going to the aid of the rebels at Matamoros, with governor Carranza.

AMMUNITION WILL END REVOLT, SAYS CARRANZA

Commander of "Constitutionalist" Forces Declares War Will Be Halted Until Embargo Is Lifted.

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 11.—"So far as winning is concerned, we do not care about recognition by the United States," said Gen. Venustiano Carranza.

"We will win eventually, anyway," explained the leader of the "Constitutionalist" revolution, "but with permission to cross ammunition over the border from the United States we will win it."

"Without this permission, it may require six months, or a year or more. The railways will remain closed. Business will continue to be hampered. American interests in Mexico and international commerce will suffer."

Gen. Carranza said that ammunition alone was needed to bring about peace in Mexico.

"We will take the rifles and artillery away from the federals as we have been doing," he said.

SOMMERFELD TO MEET WM. HALE AT TUCSON

Former Secret Agent of Madero Is Said To Be Serving Carranza in the Same Capacity.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 11.—Felix Sommerfeld, a former secret agent of Madero, now said to be serving "Constitutionalist," chief Carranza in the same capacity, is here from El Paso to meet Wm. Hayward Hale, the American government representative on the border.

Both Hale and Sommerfeld denied that they had discussed the Mexican situation.

Henry Allan Tupper and Mr. Hale met here last night for the first time since both have been on the border.

"We did not discuss Mexico," said Mr. Hale afterward, "we have had no private conference and shall have none. We are working independently."

Tupper left for Nogales this morning.

CHIHUAHUA CITY QUIET ONCE MORE

City Resumes Its Normal Conditions Following Defeat of Rebels Under Villa in Federalist War.

Chihuahua City is fast returning to the normal, according to advices Tuesday morning in Juarez. Business, which has practically been paralyzed since the attack on the capital last week by "Pancho" Villa, is being resumed. No further word of the rebels' movements has been received in Juarez, and it is the opinion here that the attack on Chihuahua has been definitely abandoned.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I have known the parents of the young man with whom I am keeping company for four months. Would it be proper for me to visit them?

If the invitation comes from them, it would be proper to visit them. But under no circumstances should you accept an invitation that comes from the son without their sanction.

Don't Try It.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a young man of 17 and deeply in love with a girl of 22 who, I have every reason to believe, returns my affection. Although I have never spoken to her, I am sure from her actions that she is in love with me.

How do you think I should go about gaining her acquaintance?

Five years difference is of no account when a man and woman are of mature age. But you are only a boy and too young to know what love means, you will be offended, but the day is not far off when I will agree with me. Postpone love making a few years.

The Bride.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

A and B had a dispute about whether it is proper for the bride to be escorted by a maid or by a bridesmaid to enter the coach first.

A says it is proper for the bride and bridesmaid to enter the coach together first. Which is correct?

Such little details are largely a matter of taste, but it is better form to have the bride precede. Is it not her great day?

Everybody Gets It.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl 23 years of age, not particularly good looking, but have a very charming personality. I have many friends. I have no desire to get married, for I have too many admirers on the field. I am, however, a constant "wrecker" of their affections.

These same friends assure me that they are a great deal better off than I am. I have to go to bed and weep every day. They argue that when I am older and less attractive my friends will drop me for new faces, and I will be very lonely.

I have two friends of whom I am fond, but cannot say that I am in love with either. One is a great deal older than I, but I feel that he is a passionate character, twenty years my senior. His habits are good, he is even tempered, and I know that the love he holds for me is true.

I am perfectly contented in the company of either, so do you think that I should marry?

I am an excellent housekeeper, and have made a study of the art of making a good dinner. I have been an orphan since very young, and, having been thrown in contact with many people of different natures, I feel that I would get along. As for love, does everybody get it? I feel immensely.

May.

Everybody gets it, and the fact that you have not felt it is sufficient reason why you should not marry either of the two. Believe me, my dear, when you really love, you will know no doubts. The woman who loves and marries, is happier than the woman who remains single. Love has a way of lessening all burdens.

ATTACK CURRENCY BILL

New York, Nov. 11.—Banking and currency reform with special reference to the currency bill, which was the subject of a debate before the Economic club of New York in which Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, and representative Glass, of Virginia, and Frank A. Vanderlip, of New York, took part.

Senator Owen pointed out the essentials of the currency bill and told how the senate committee has tried to meet objections to it.

In urging that the proposed regional banks ought to be empowered, in case of emergency, to serve their function by transferring credits from one to another, senator Owen said:

"In my judgment, no such power will be exercised. Yet, if a national emergency should arise the power ought to be lodged somewhere in order to protect the national credit."

Mr. Vanderlip said old prejudices and new platforms would not solve the currency legislation problem.

Advice To the Lovelorn

By Beatrice Fairfax.

DON'T DELAY THE ENGAGEMENT.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am keeping company with a girl of 13. I am 24, and have no bad habits. The other evening I took her to the theater from her home and her brother followed us. She objected very much, as they do not agree. I have her father's consent to meet with her. I intend to marry her, but I am a little nervous about it. I am trying to take the pleasure away from her.

Her father approves and the girl likes you. If you have your ring on her finger, you will be in position where the brother is powerless to annoy you.

Certainly Not.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Used a ring presented to a girl from a man with whom she is very friendly as a birthday gift, signify an engagement? Such a thing has never been mentioned by either party. Allice.

A ring isn't an engagement; it is only the symbol. One may be engaged, or married, without a ring. A ring signifies without a marriage proposal signifies nothing, for the reason that it is the symbol of betrothal. It is not a guarantee for the exchange of ring gifts between those who are only friends.

Don't Let Your Hair Spoil Your Good Looks

Take the right care of your hair, and instead of spoiling your good looks, it will improve them. You can't beautify your hair with barrettes, ribbons and such things. Knives-knives make homely hair look even worse, because the contrast shows off its ugliness to greater effect.

To your wet, beautiful hair—soft, silky, lustrous and glossy—use Harmony Hair Beautifier, a dainty, liquid hair dressing. Use it also if you want your hair to go into place—wavy, graceful fashion—more easily, and stay where you put it. It overcomes the unpleasant, oily odor with a delightful rose fragrance. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness. Just a sweet cleanliness.
